We hope to offer some comfort and continued support to our local community during these trying times. Currently, we are suggesting carryout orders or delivery through doordash. We are also offering an option where you can order by phone and have the order brought to your car if you want to maintain social distancing. As always, we will maintain the highest level of sanitation and best-know practices of restaurant safety to keep our customers free from any potential contamination. This includes the regular use of gloves, sanitizers, and any other practices suggested to help contain the spread of any infection. We are regularly monitoring any further measures or regulations that may arise to ensure we are doing all we can to keep our customers safe.
